The engine uses two engine speed/timing sensors. One sensor picks up the camshaft gear and the other sensor picks up the crankshaft gear. Both of the engine speed/timing sensors detect the reference for engine speed and timing from a unique pattern on the gear.

Engine Speed/Timing Sensor Circuit - Test

The secondary engine speed/timing sensor is used to determine when the piston in the No. 1 Cylinder is at the top of the compression stroke. When the timing has been established, the primary engine speed/timing sensor is then used to determine engine speed. ... How to calibrate engine speed sensor on c15 cat?

The secondary engine speed sensor is located on the drivers side of the engine. It is on the back of the front cover in front of the air compressor. It has two wires. If you have a code for it, the sensor has most likely failed. But its good to inspect the harness that connects to it as well. It could also be damaged.

What is a secondary engine speed sensor and where is it ...

CTP speed sensors provide an accurate and reliable mean of converting rotational speed into a signal that can be measured by electronic control equipment. A speed sensor is an AC generator. It is normally installed into the flywheel housing of an internal combustion engine, to ensure the starter ring gear acts upon it to generate a voltage ...
